Eileen O'Connor Named Top Wealth Manager by Washingtonian

Washingtonian magazine names Eileen O'Connor of Hemington Wealth Management top wealth manager for the fourth time.

Tysons, VIRGINIA (October 26, 2014) Eileen O'Connor, Co-Founder and Managing Principal of Hemington Wealth Management has been recognized by Washingtonian magazine in the annual "They Know Money" edition. The publication's November issue ranks the top fee-only advisers in the Washington metro area and hit newsstands this week.

"As Hemington continues to grow its footprint in the Washington DC metro area, it is a tremendous honor to be recognized by a very reputable publication in our own backyard," remarked O'Connor, who has now been selected four times for the exclusive list. To compile the lists of leading financial planners, wealth managers, accountants and estate planners, the Washingtonian surveyed thousands of industry experts and asked them to identify the leaders in the field.

"It is especially rewarding to be recognized by my peers for the positive impact we are making on our clients' financial lives," O'Connor observed, further noting, "It reaffirms our commitment to providing the highest level of wealth management services available in the marketplace."

O'Connor and her colleagues at Hemington act as "personal CFOs" for a limited number of affluent executives, retirees and their families. Her fee-only wealth management firm incorporates investment management, advanced planning, and managing relationships with other experts on behalf of her clients.

O'Connor holds the CFP® professional designation, an MBA from Harvard Business School, a B.S. in Finance from the University of Virginia, and an Executive Certificate in Financial Planning from Georgetown University. O'Connor is widely recognized as an expert in wealth management, specifically on challenges of women of wealth.

Third-party rankings and recognition from rating services or publications are no guarantee of future investment success. Working with a highly rated advisor does not ensure that a client or prospective client will experience a higher level of performance or results. These ratings should not be construed as an endorsement of the advisor by any client nor are they representative of any one client's evaluation. A more thorough disclosure of the criteria used in making these rankings is available in the November 2014 edition of Washingtonian.
